

The North Weald Flying Group now offer the opportunity to convert your existing NPPL(M) to an NPPL(SSEA). Encompassing the minimum requirement for two hours stall/spin awareness training plus one hour instrument flying and appreciation each course is individually structured around your current experience level.

Our own experienced instructors conduct the courses with the flight tests being undertaken by our in house examiner. The required theoretical examinations in Aircraft General and Principles of Flight can be taken with us at North Weald as part of your course.

The complete training package is completely self contained within the NWFG. This means your course is totally hassle free and will allow you to reach the required standard as quickly and easily as your schedule and budget allows.

Why use the North Weald Flying Group to conduct your training?

We are one of the UK's largest flying groups and currently operate seven Cessna aircraft from our North Weald airfield base. Having been established for over 13 years our heritage is aircraft hire and advanced flight training. PPL and conversion training is administered by our training company North Weald Flight Training Ltd who together with the NWFG hold full and individual CAA Approved Training Organisation status (ATO's 332 & 450) We consider ourselves different from other training establishments in the area in being able to offer:

- A flexible approach to your training to give you the very best value.
- A fleet of well maintained aircraft with excellent availability to suit your schedule.
- One to one instruction with the same instructor for the duration of your course.
- A training package that will allow you to progress seamlessly to NWFG membership if required to fully utilise your new NPPL SSEA
- All weather hard runways and taxiways.
- No landing fees at North Weald. (Repetitive circuit training incurs a £2.50 per circuit fee levied by the airfield operator EFDC).
- Maximum airborne time with none of the expensive holding delays often associated with some of the bigger and busier commercial airfields.
- Excellent facilities including a café.

Over the last 8 years we have conducted dozens of NPPL (M) to SSEA conversions and have a 95% first time pass rate. We are also well practiced in the application process which allows you to be granted your new rating in the shortest possible time after the completion of the course.
